

More Buttons, Less Control

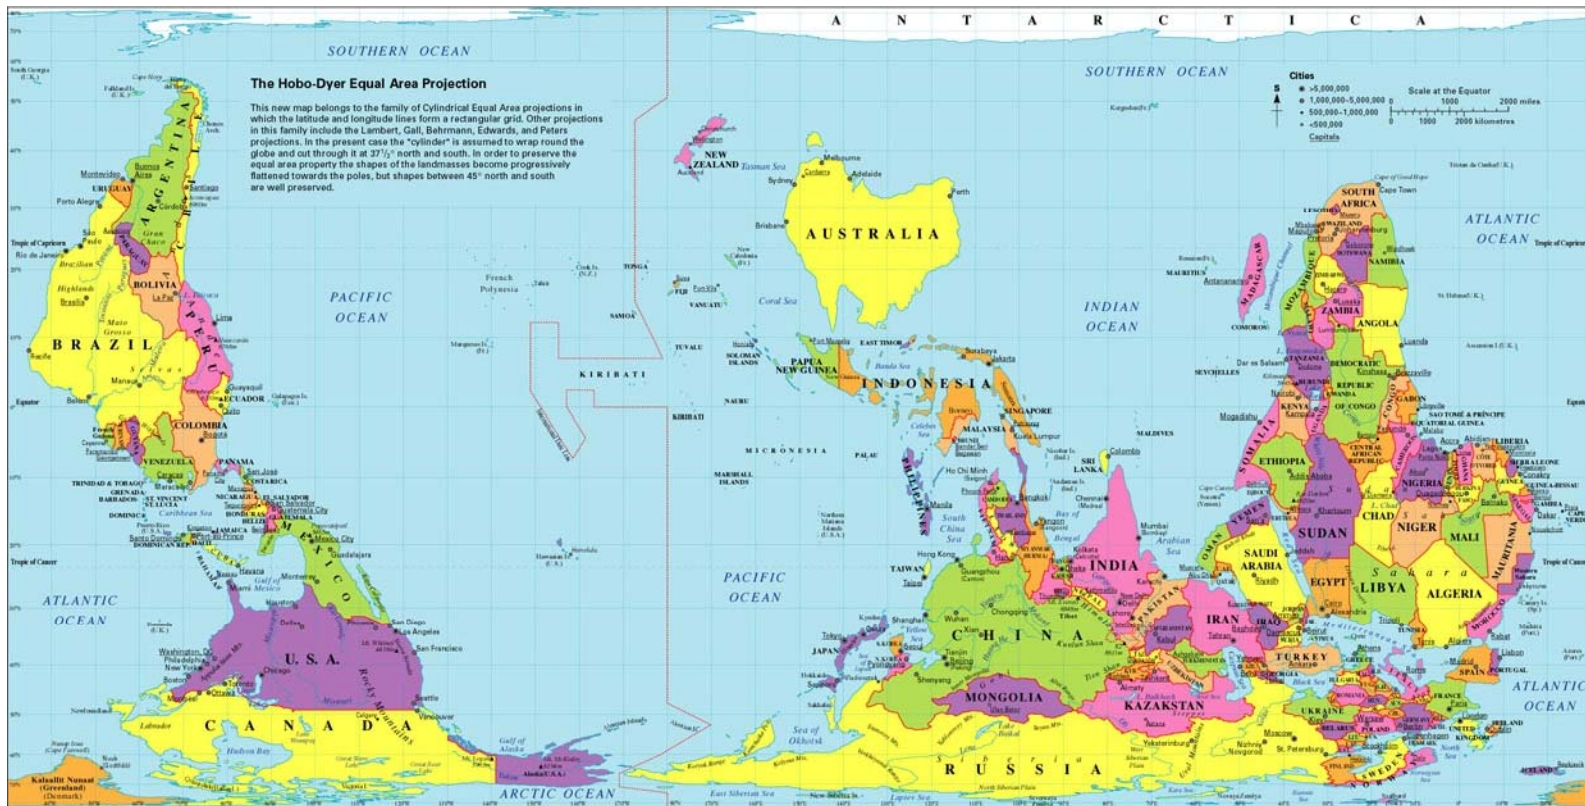

Jon Brown

Who Am I

GripShift

9/10

"One of XBLA's most enjoyable, addicting games yet"

A

"Well worth the 800 point price tag"

EUROGAMER

8/10

"With each iteration...Sidhe has proven itself a developer worth watching"

SPEED RACER

THE VIDEOGAME

Speed Racer is the Most Critically Acclaimed Movie
License Wii Game to Date

"The always pleasing motion-assisted racing should succeed in raising both the player's heart rate and the corners of their mouth... Don't say it too loud, but Speed Racer: The Videogame... is actually pretty good"

83%
– Play™

"One of the better arcade-style racing games that have come out in a long time... here's a surprise for you: Speed Racer is actually a lot of fun"

90%
– Gameshark

"A surprisingly adept and entertaining racing game. The fundamental gameplay mechanics are strong, the control well done, and the visual presentation more or less perfectly in tune with the film"

– IGN

"A movie license videogame that doesn't suck" – IGN 80%

"It took 23 years, but Arkanoid has been bested."

History

When I Were A Lad...

Games Were Hard!

The Great Brown Family Ghostbusters Story...

But, The Controls Were Easy

The Problem

But Things Change

Why Make Them So Complicated?

Everyone Does It

More Options Is More Fun (i.e. you don't think your core interaction is strong enough)

More Controls = More Control

But Really, What is the Cost of One
Extra Little Button?

Learning is Hard!

Demo Controls of Doom

This Is How We Normally Describe a Difficulty Curve

But Players Get Better Over Time

So What We're Really Trying To Do Is

Apart From The Controls

Social Games are Popular Because

Of Course, Not All Additions Are Created Equal

The Hinterland of Fail

Some Might Not Even Need A Button!

LOOK, MA. no hands! Kellett Aircraft's experimental 'copter uses new gyro stabilizing system.

Lessons Learned From...

The Basic Requirements

Get a UX Lab

Start Early and Iterate...

The Approach

Buttons Are The Enemy

Do You Need That Function?

Help Under the Hood

Put the Function In the World

Communicate With the Player

Change the World

The Warning

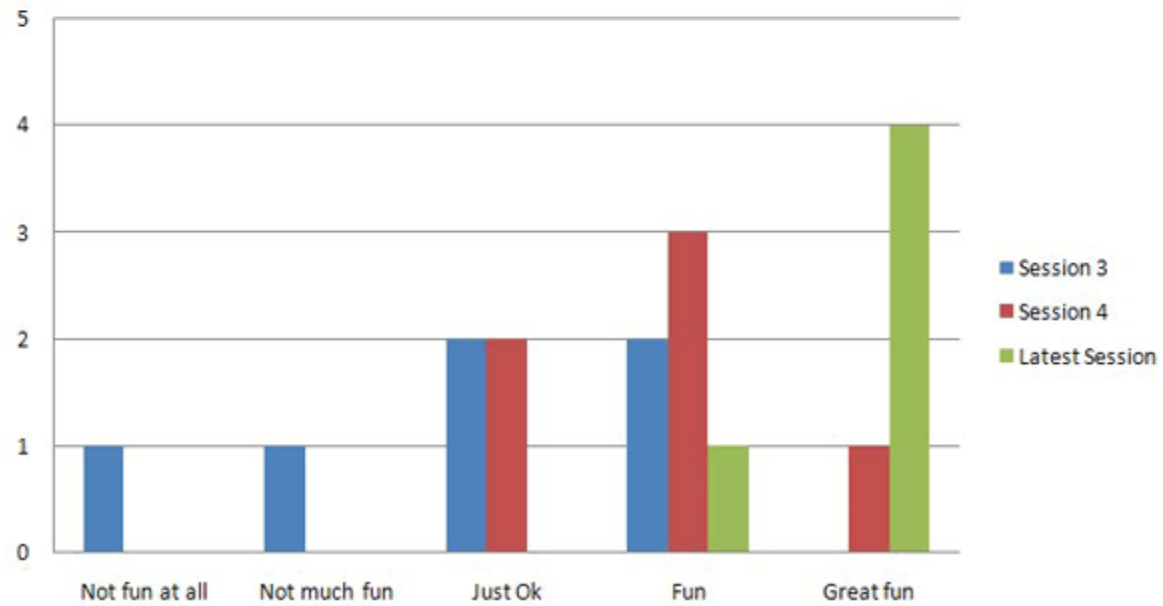

Usability Makes You Angry

How would you rate the "Fun" level?

Erroneous Mental Models

Love Maps

It's Tough

Did We Follow Our Own Advice?

We Wanted Lasers

For a Good Reason Though

The Jump Button

The Shield

Universal Acclaim

Review Graph

One Final Note...

More Buttons, Less Control

Jon Brown

